

During a portion of William Tell Elementary's assembly, Cousin Tom of the Box Out Bullying program plays a game of "who should you tell" with Colin Fenn. Hint: it's not the dinosaur.

Bullying Days Be Gone

Students at William Tell Elementary participated Tuesday in a Box Out Bullying seminar. The program was aimed toward building bystander empowerment, addressing potential problems and creating empathy. It was part of the school's ongoing Olweus bullying prevention efforts that offer school-wide policies, training and education for students and staff. The Box Out Bullying troupe tours the nation's schools and communities using the power of live theater and interactive media to help sustain a positive school environment. Above, actor Jeremy Ruebenstein holds cards above grade schooler Rose Marie Jacob during a round of name the emotion, as actor Kyle Masteller portrays the emotion. The pair animatedly exclaimed that she correctly identified the feeling.

Mailboxes damaged by vandals

PERRY COUNTY – The Perry County Sheriff's Department is investigating vandalism to several mailboxes along Old State Road 237 and other areas of the county. Most of the reports were from Feb. 18 and Feb. 19. Anyone with information about who is responsible should call the sheriff's department at (812) 547-2441 or (812) 547-7068. Information may also be left anonymously on a tip line at (812) 547-9563.

Grief counseling group meeting

SANTA CLAUS – Griefshare, a counseling program for those dealing with the death of a loved one, will meet in the Youth Fellowship Hall at Heritage Hills Baptist Church in Santa Claus to begin a series of meetings over the course of 13 weeks. The first meeting will be held at 6 p.m. Monday, Feb. 29. The cost of the program workbook and refreshments will be $20. Scholarship money is available. Call Heritage Hills Baptist Church at (812) 937-9932 to register.

Confession times offered

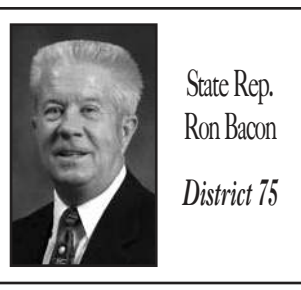

ST. MEINRAD – Saint Meinrad Archabbey will offer confession times during Lent. Opportunities for the sacrament of reconciliation will be available at Saint Meinrad Archabbey on the Saturdays and Sundays of Lent. Confession will be available at the chapel in the Archabbey Guest House on these days: Saturdays during Lent, Feb. 27; March 5, 12 and 19, 10:30 a.m. Sundays during Lent Feb. 28; March 6 and 13, 8:15 to 9:15 a.m. The opportunities for confession are part of the observance of the Jubilee Year of Mercy, as designated by Pope Francis. During the Year of Mercy, Indianapolis Archbishop Joseph W. Tobin, CSsR, selected the Saint Meinrad Archabbey Church as one of two pilgrimage sites in the archdiocese that Catholics may visit to receive a plenary indulgence established by the Holy See for the jubilee year. The other church is SS. Peter and Paul Cathedral in Indianapolis. To receive the plenary indulgence, Catholics can pass through the designated "holy door" at the church, recite a profession of faith (the Apostles' or Nicene Creed), and pray for the pope and his intentions. Additionally, during the 20 days before or after passing through the holy door, Catholics are required to be truly repentant of one's sins and participate in the sacrament of penance, receive Communion and prayerfully reflect on mercy after receiving it.

Forest trail permits available

BEDFORD – Trail permits to ride horses or mountain bikes on Hoosier National Forest trails during 2016 are now available. Permits can be purchased at the Tell City Ranger Station and some local businesses in the Forest area. Annual trail permits make great Christmas gifts for trail enthusiasts. The cost of annual permits remains at $35. A daily permit is $5. There are approximately 168 miles of trails designated for bike use, and 197 miles of trail for horse use on the Forest. Most of the income collected from trail permits, remains on the Hoosier National Forest and is used to maintain trails, enhance trailheads and provide visitor services. People can also call and use a credit card to purchase permits and have them sent by mail. To order a trail permit by phone, call the Forest office at (866) 302-4173. The forest website at www.fs.usda.gov/hoosier provides a list of businesses that sell trail permits.

Honoring soldiers of the Korean War

During the fast-paced legislative session, I believe it is important to dedicate time to recognizing our veterans who have sacrificed so much to protect our country. That's why I am sponsoring Senate Concurrent Resolution 3, urging the Indiana Department of Transportation to place a memorial sign where the 38th parallel crosses Interstate 69 just north of Morgan Avenue in Evansville. The 38th parallel is historically significant because it was the battle line between North and South Korea that American forces fought to hold during the Korean War. The Korean War cost our nation greatly, and claimed more than 33,000 American lives. It affected Hoosiers everywhere, including my family. This resolution hits close to home, as my father was one of those veterans. He was a Seabee, fighting alongside other soldiers and building airstrips and roads for the American forces. My brothers also served in the U.S. Army and Navy. I have great respect and regard for all who have bravely served. Creating a tangible memorial in my district is something that will serve as a constant reminder of their sacrifices. The placement of this memorial sign – which will read "Veterans of the Korean War Memorial-38th Parallel" – would be a lasting tribute viewed by thousands of citizens and those traveling through our community. Korean War veterans fought fervently for this country, and deserve recognition. Many Hoosiers have bravely answered the call to serve our nation, and our state is incredibly grateful. To view this resolution and follow proposals being considered by lawmakers, visit www.iga.in.gov. Rep. Bacon (R-Chandler) represents portions of Warwick, Pike and Spencer counties.
